Beyond BOW workshops provide opportunities to learn outdoors skills. Workshops are designed especially for women and are an extension of the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program sponsored by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks

Montana is home to over a 1,000 different wildflowers that bloom in a rainbow of colors. But have you stopped to sniff the flowers and wondered what you were smelling?

Join us for a day in the woods where you will learn the basics of flower Identification from members of the Montana Native Plant Society. This class will be held in the forest near Helena and is great class for someone with no previous formal experience with plant identification.

The participants will take guided flower walks in the morning and afternoon. You will learn basic flower identification techniques, plant terminology, and plant families. We'll provide a demonstration on flower preservation techniques. Each participant will receive a flower id guide book. Bring your lunch as we'll stop for a lunch break at the Moose Creek Cabin.
